Weather Duck

RT-20

This $199 weather station warns of damaging environment changes: perfect for server room or remote computer room monitoring. With door sensors, you know when a door has been opened. The unit has multiple sensors inside the case and is matchbox sized.

No power supply needed. Sensors are internal. The device plugs directly into your PC's serial port. Add external temperature sensors easily.

With the supplied software, you can receive e-mail alerts or be paged when temperature or any of the other values is exceeded. View the data on the web. Log in Excel spreadsheets.
